

Coconut Fred's Fruit Salad Island

Character Descriptions

FRED and his "BUNCH" OF FRUIT PALS

COCONUT FRED

A wacky wrecking ball of pure happiness and bliss, Coconut Fred's head is full of wild, exciting, endless ideas and, well, sweet sloshy milk. With boundless energy and a vivid imagination, Fred, ever the eternal optimist, embarks on new adventures every day while living on Fruit Salad Island. Fred has a million dreams and wants to pursue them all...no matter how farfetched they may seem to others. All he needs are his fruit friends and his endless imagination...and little does he know, anything he imagines actually becomes real!

SLIP D'PEEL & SLIDE D'PEEL

These twin bananas have a combined I.Q. that is lower than that of a real banana. And hold onto your pants because these two love giving wedgies! Slip D'Peel & Slide D'Peel also love hanging out with Fred and go along with the coconut's master plans without a moment's hesitation. Eager to offer up advice and comment on what's going on around them, they often misunderstand the meaning of things, creating lots of comedic chaos. Despite their low I.Q., they are very talented builders and master craftsmen.

MR. GREENRIND

Mr. Greenrind, the watermelon and activities director of the island, is a control freak who makes up the rules—loads and loads of rules—so many that he keeps track of them on a squeaky board that he constantly writes down new rules on. Coconut Fred, of course, is a walking-talking rule-breaker, so therein lies the rub. A father figure of sorts to Fred, Mr. Greenrind does his very, very best to tolerate the coconut...until he inevitably snaps.

BINGO CHERRY

Coconut Fred's best friend, Bingo, is a jumpy, nervous little cherry. The opposite of fearless Fred, Bingo is afraid of almost everything, and with good reason, as the adventures he reluctantly goes along with almost always end in disaster. Bingo works for Mr. Greenrind and dreams of someday getting promoted to "tanning consultant." Bingo's most important job is as Fred's sidekick and his unheeded voice of reason.

BUNGA BERRY

This native wild strawberry, who acts like an untrained energetic Pug, dresses in call-of-the-wild, Tarzan-style outfits. He's a snarling, snorting, knuckle-dragging beast with a heart of gold who scares almost everyone except Coconut Fred.

OTHER ISLANDERS

LEMON WEDGE aka "WEDGIE"

A sourpuss of a lemon, Wedgie is shipwrecked on Fruit Salad Island and still lives in his broken-down boat. This hermit whose only friend is Betty, the wooden masthead on his boat, is constantly trying to get off the island and away from Coconut Fred. When Wedgie isn't creating his next contraption to get him off the island or patching his boat to make it seaworthy, he's complaining about Betty's "constant nagging."

SLURPY

Slurpy, the evil fruit bat, named for the drooling and hungry slurping sounds he makes, always tries to sink his teeth into the deliciously sweet islanders.

BUTCHY

A rotten apple who is the island bully and is out to spoil all of the other fruits' fun, Butchy is rotten to the core and threatens to give the others a good "whompin" at low tide.

BLENDEE

This flamboyantly maniacal blender hatches overelaborate schemes to turn the inhabitants of Fruit Salad Island into "the biggest and most delicious smoothie the world has ever seen!"